

Detailed Contents _____

Preface	xv
Allen F. Repko, Rick Szostak, William H. Newell
Audience	xvi
The Research Model	xix
Outline of Chapters	xx
Part I: Introduction	xx
Chapter 1: The Interdisciplinary Research Process	xx
Part II: Drawing on Disciplinary Insights	xxi
Chapter 2: Jewish Marriage as an Expression of Israel's Conflicted Identity	xxi
Chapter 3: The Metropolitan Problem in Interdisciplinary Perspective	xxi
Chapter 4: Mektoub: When Art Meets History, Philosophy, and Linguistics	xxii
Part III: Approaches to Integration	xxii
Chapter 5: Integrating Theory-Based Insights on the Causes of Suicide Terrorism	xxii
Chapter 6: An Interdisciplinary Analysis of the Causes of Economic Growth	xxiii
Chapter 7: Why We Talk: An Interdisciplinary Approach to the Evolutionary Origin of Language	xxiii
Chapter 8: Understanding Human Action: Integrating Meanings, Mechanisms, Causes, and Contexts	xxiv
Chapter 9: Integrative Theory in Criminology Applied to the Complex Social Problem of School Violence	xxiv
Chapter 10: Research Integration: A Comparative Knowledge Base	xxv
Conclusion	xxv

Acknowledgments	xxvii
About the Editors	xxix
About the Contributors	xxxi
PART I INTRODUCTION	1
1. The Interdisciplinary Research Process	3
Rick Szostak
Introduction	3
Should Interdisciplinary Identify Such a Process?	3
Structure Versus Freedom	4
The Role of Shared Methodologies	5
Revolutionary Versus Normal Science	5
Interdisciplinarity and Training	7
Strategic Interdisciplinarity	7
What Would an Interdisciplinary
Research Process Look Like?	8
Interdisciplinary Research: Process and Theory	8
The Ecology of Team Science	11
Integration and Implementation Sciences	12
Types of Interdisciplinarity	14
Transdisciplinary Perspectives	15
Conclusion	17
PART II DRAWING ON DISCIPLINARY INSIGHTS	21
2. Jewish Marriage as an Expression of Israel's Conflicted Identity	23
Marilyn R. Tayler
Introduction	23
Drawing on Disciplinary Insights	24
Step 1: State the Focus Question	24
Step 2: Justify Using an Interdisciplinary Approach	25
Steps 3 and 4: Identify Relevant
Disciplines and Conduct a Literature Search	26
Step 5: Develop Adequacy in Each Relevant Discipline	28
Step 6: Analyze the Problem and
Evaluate Each Insight Into It	29
The Insights of Religion	30
The Insights of Political Science	33
The Insights of Law	36
Integrating Insights and Producing an Interdisciplinary
Understanding	39
Step 7: Identify Conflicts Between Insights
and Their Sources	39

Sources of Conflict Within the Same Discipline	40
Sources of Conflict Between Disciplines	40
Step 8: Create or Discover Common Ground	42
Nature and Extent of Conflicts	42
The Discovery/Creation of Common Ground	43
Step 9: Integrate Insights	45
Legal Pragmatism Theory Supported by
Covenant Theory as the Basis for Integration	46
Step 10: Produce an Interdisciplinary
Understanding of the Problem and Test It	48
Conclusion	49
3. The Metropolitan Problem in Interdisciplinary Perspective	53
Michan Andrew Connor
Introduction	53
Cities and Suburbs: Spatial Framings of
Metropolitan Issues	56
Historical Perspectives on
Metropolitan Formation	58
Methodological Patterns in Urban and
Suburban History	59
Intradisciplinary Debate and the
New Suburban History	60
Parallels Between the New Suburban
History and Urban History	62
Alternate Spatial Framings in the Social Sciences	62
Metropolitics: Fighting Fragmentation	63
Behavioralism and Public Choice Theory	66
Public Choice Theory and Public Policy	66
Normative and Analytical Critiques of
Public Choice Theory	67
Critical Legal Studies: The Power of Local
Government and Boundaries	69
The Limits of Social Science Perspectives
on Metropolitan Formation	71
The Social Production of Metropolitan Los Angeles	73
Theory, Practice, and Metropolitan Space: The Career
of Public Choice Theory in Los Angeles County	74
The Rule of Homes: The Culture of a
Public Choice Metropolis	79
The Image of Homes Mediates
Political Contradictions	81
Metropolitan Political Conflicts Under
Public Choice Theory	81
Conclusion	83

4. Mektoub: When Art Meets History, Philosophy, and Linguistics	91
Mieke Bal
Introduction	91
How to Develop a Research Question	92
The End: Philosophy of Cinema	98
Poetry: A Cinema of Literature	102
Where Are We? Geography of Setting	106
Schizophrenia: Psychiatry of Cinema	110
Tragedy: Ethics of Theater	112
Mektoub	118
Conclusion	120

PART III APPROACHES TO INTEGRATION 123

5. Integrating Theory-Based Insights on the Causes of Suicide Terrorism	125
Allen F. Repko
Introduction	125
Drawing on Disciplinary Insights (Steps 1 to 6)	126
Identifying the Most Relevant Disciplines (Step 3) and
Conducting the Full-Scale Literature Search (Step 4)	127
Developing Adequacy in Each Relevant
Discipline (Step 5)	128
Analyzing the Problem and Evaluating
Each Insight Into It (Step 6)	129
The Theory-Based Insights of Psychology	129
The Theory-Based Insights of Political Science	131
The Theory-Based Insight of
Cultural Anthropology	134
The Theory-Based Insight of History	135
A Taxonomy of Theory-Based Insights	136
Integrating Causal Explanations (Steps 7 to 9)	138
Identifying Conflicts in Insights and
Locating Their Sources (Step 7)	139
Conflicting Disciplinary Perspectives	139
Conflicting Disciplinary Assumptions	139
Conflicting Disciplinary Theories	140
Summary of These Theories and How Their
Assumptions Conflict	143
Creating Common Ground (Step 8)	145
Constructing a More Comprehensive
Understanding (Step 9)	145
A Statement of the More Comprehensive Theory Itself	152
Lessons for Interdisciplinary Practice	153
The Final Step (Step 10)	154
Conclusion	155

6. An Interdisciplinary Analysis of the Causes of Economic Growth	159
Rick Szostak
Introduction	159
Identify an Interdisciplinary Research Question	160
Identifying Relevant Phenomena, Theories, Methods, and Disciplines	161
Evaluating Disciplinary Insights	166
Creating Common Ground	168
The Proximate Causes Themselves	170
Trade and Growth	171
Technology and Growth	173
Institutions	174
Culture and Growth	179
Networks	181
Social Structure	183
Community Development	183
Emergent Properties	184
Lessons for Interdisciplinary Practice	185
Reflection and Communication	186
Conclusion	187
7. Why We Talk: An Interdisciplinary Approach to the Evolutionary Origin of Language	191
Ria van der Lecq
Introduction	191
Beginning the Research Process (Steps 1 to 4)	191
Framing the Research Question (Step 1)	191
Justifying an Interdisciplinary Approach (Step 2)	192
Identifying Relevant Disciplines (Step 3) and Conducting an In-Depth Literature Search (Step 4)	192
Drawing on Disciplinary Insights on the Primary Function of Language (Steps 5 to 6)	194
Developing Adequacy in Each Relevant Discipline (Step 5)	194
Evaluating Disciplinary Insights (Step 6)	195
The Theory of Evolution	196
Contemporary Theories	198
Integrating Insights and Producing an Interdisciplinary Understanding (Steps 7 to 10)	210
Identifying Conflicts Between Insights and Their Sources (Step 7)	212
A Taxonomy of Conflicting Insights	213
Conflicting Concepts	215
Conflicting Assumptions	215
Creating Common Ground (Step 8)	216

Creating Common Ground Using Concepts	216
Creating Common Ground Using Assumptions	217
Integrating Disciplinary Insights (Step 9)	218
An Interdisciplinary Understanding of the Primary Function of Language (Step 10)	219
Lessons for Interdisciplinary Practice	221
Conclusion	222
8. Understanding Human Action: Integrating Meanings, Mechanisms, Causes, and Contexts	225
Machiel Keestra
Introduction	225
Mechanism-Based Explanation in Brief	227
Drawing on Disciplinary Insights (Steps 1 to 6)	230
Defining the Problem: Decomposition of Action Understanding	231
Justify Using an Interdisciplinary Approach: Action Understanding as a Multilevel Phenomenon	233
Identify Disciplines Most Relevant to the Mechanism-Based Approach	235
Conduct an In-Depth Literature Search	238
Develop Adequacy Concerning the Relevant Components, Operations, and Interactions of the Mechanism	239
Analyze the Phenomenon and Evaluate Each Insight Into It	243
Integrating Insights (Steps 7 to 10)	245
Identify Conflicts Between Insights and Locate Their Sources	246
Create or Discover Common Ground via a Mechanism	248
Integrate Insights Into a Mechanism-Based Explanation	250
Produce a Mechanism-Based Explanation of Human Action Understanding and Test It	252
Conclusion	255
9. Integrative Theory in Criminology Applied to the Complex Social Problem of School Violence	259
Stuart Henry and Nicole L. Bracy
Introduction	259
Creating Common Ground(s) and a Comprehensive Understanding in Criminology	260
Conceptual Integration	263
Propositional Integration	265
Causal Integration	268
Cross-Level Integration	269

Toward an Integrated Analysis of Violence and School Violence	270
Violence as a Complex Problem	270
Integrative Theory in Criminology as an Explanation of Violence/School Violence	272
Integrative Analysis of School Violence as a Cumulative Reciprocal Causal Process	274
Conclusion	277
10. Research Integration: A Comparative Knowledge Base	283
Julie Thompson Klein
Historical Beginnings	284
Transdisciplinarity and the Shift to Complexity and Problem Solving	286
Means of Integration	288
Lessons From TDR Integration	290
Conclusion	293
1. The Principle of Variance	293
No Universal Formula for Integration	293
2. The Principle of Platforming	294
Interaction Structure, Integration Potential, Fundament	294
3. The Principle of Iteration	294
Moving Back and Forth, Bootstrapping, Triangulation, Reflective Balance, and Weaving	294
4. The Principle of Communicative Rationality	295
Shared Language Culture, Social Learning, Translation-Negotiation-Mediation, Intersubjectivity	295
Conclusion	299
William H. Newell
Introduction	299
Interdisciplinary Research Process Across the Academy	300
Conceptions of Interdisciplinarity Across the Academy	301
Modifications to the Interdisciplinary Process	303
Operationalizing the Interdisciplinary Process	305
Meta-Discussions of Interdisciplinary Research Process	311
Conclusion	313
Author Index	315
Subject Index	321